NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—(By The Associated Press.)—The cause of the explosion which in the wreckage of an eye yesterday noon from the Wall Street area, near Broad, was a time bomb, remains tonight a mystery.

Official opinion, as expressed by William F. Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigation, department of justice, and Elmer Commissioner Thomas Brennan, is that the bomb exploded with high explosives and resulted in the death of six persons. The theory that the blast was caused by a collision between an explosive laden wagon, and another vehicle, seems to have been dispelled by subsequent investigation, although it has not yet been entirely dispelled by official investigators.

Chief Flynn, who arrived from Washington to take personal charge of the investigation, declared after leaving the J. P. Morgan office that from evidence obtained within the last few hours it has been definitely established that the explosion was due to a time bomb.

The bomb was taken to Wall Street, where it was exploded. The infernal machine was timed to go off at noon and apparently was placed in the wagon by a person who was seen to enter the wagon at 11:30 a. m. The explosion occurred at 12:05 p. m.

Six More Deaths
Six more deaths since midnight brought the total toll to 12. The bodies of the six persons who were killed, including those treated at the second hospital and at their homes were approximately three hundred. Nearly one hundred of these are still in hospital.

In Broad Overall
When it reached about opposite the Morgan bank and the assay office, she said, the driver pulled up at the curb and stopped. He got out of his seat and walked toward the Wall Street toward Broad, way. I had reached the Equitable building when the explosion occurred. I was knocked senseless. I lay on the ground for some time. I saw him. He was of the laboring type, about 40 years old, and was dressed in a suit of brown overalls. They were spotted with the white powder I saw on the boxes of barrels.

Reconstruction of the airplane found in the bodies of some of the dead and fragments removed in surgical operations, has added weight to the belief that the explosion came from an infernal machine and was not accidental.

An official conclusion to this effect will be filed by Dr. A. Schultz, medical examiner attached to the district attorney's office.

Schultz examined the bodies of several dead and operated on some injured. Death in many cases, he said, was due to perforating wounds from pieces of metal directly associated with explosive.

He insisted that there were no parts of an automobile or wagon.

In his operations, he said, he observed fragments of metal buried in the flesh of the wounded. Many of the slugs were about the size of a .30-caliber bullet.

A $10,000 reward was offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the explosion. A $10,000 reward was offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the explosion.

HALF CONTRACT MONEY IS SPENT

Accountant Presents Report on County's Road Funds

On the basis of money involved, the contracts awarded to date on the county highway system are half completed, according to the showing made in the report of Road Accountant H. J. Richard, filed with the board of supervisors yesterday.

The county is obligated for approximately $1,975,000 on the contracts which have been let. Of this amount, $480,000 has been expended for all purposes up to the beginning of the present month, leaving $1,495,000 due.

The commitment of the county prior to the date shows a total balance of $7,021,315.55, against which there is outstanding warrants aggregating $102,958.51, and contracts and vouchers payable of $1,495,000, leaving a working balance of $5,423,356.54.

To this should be added the sum of $1,000,000, representing the value of bonds in the hands of Treasurer which have been sold but have not been reported into cash. The working balance includes the two items of assets, $18,817.50 premium on bonds, and $2,981.38 on bonded interest.

CHESTER H. ROWELL, Editor and Manager

WILL ACCEPT RESERVATIONS

About the most encouraging thing Governor Cox has yet said on the League of Nations is his telegram to Irving Fisher, given out at Reno, promising a conciliatory attitude on reservations. Governor Cox interpreted the Democratic platform as opposing only reservations of nullification, and said that he would "endeavor to meet all reasonable desires for proper reservations which are offered in sincerity."

It has been of course known all along that this was Governor Cox's personal view, but the question was whether he would have the courage to announce it as a public policy. The contrary policy of President Wilson is pure pathological obstinacy and no rational man would follow it after election. But the first job for Cox is to get elected, and to that end he needs the active support of President Wilson. Because it was thought that a rational attitude would lose him the President's support, while an irrational one would lose him the confidence of the people, the Republican leaders have been trying to taunt him into taking one position or the other with the idea that either would defeat him, while to evade taking either would defeat him more certainly. And the purpose of campaigns is of course not to clarify issues or determine policies, but to beat the other side. Governor Cox seems to have faced the dilemma squarely, by taking the right side and risking the consequences. Which will probably not elect him even then, but if it does not, will at least give him a more self-respecting defeat.

"Now will come the new taunt: 'Do you mean Article X?' And to that Governor Cox may very properly refuse a reply. His position is that he wants the League of Nations covenant with only such reservations as are necessary to get it at all. He personally desires only two, and these very mild ones. But he will concede others if he must to get Senate support. He would like to have Article X stay in the covenant with only a mild reservation, but he will go further if necessary. Like the boy who was told to take the horse to the fair and 'sell him for $100 if you can get it, but take $50 if you miss,' he will get only the $50 if he announces in advance that he will take it. If it were, as it is in Harding's case, a policy which he was to propose and lead, it would be legitimate to demand that he specify. But when, on the contrary, it is a policy which others must propose, and to which he will yield only what they make necessary—it is their right.

The main gain is that the pro-League candidate has definitely announced a policy, which, if carried out, would get the League, and has separated himself from the Wilson policy, which prevented the League. It brings the issue, for the first time, down to a practical basis. Now it is Harding's turn to propose something practical, too, if he can. Then an intelligent choice may begin to be possible.

CERTAINLY INTENTIONAL

The official theory that the New York explosion was a bomb outrage is backed not merely by considerable evidence but by very great probability. It is of course physically possible that the only wagon load of high explosive that ever accidentally exploded in New York should have exploded exactly at noon, exactly at the most spectacular spot in the world for such an explosion to take place. The corner of Broad and Wall streets, between the sub-treasury and Morgan's office, is just as probable a place as any other spot in New York. And exact noon is just as probable a time as any other of the seconds of the working day. A brief calculation of the doctrine of chances shows that there was just about one chance in one hundred million of an accidental explosion taking place at that exact time and in that exact place. On the other hand, if an anti-capitalist anarchist set off the bomb intentionally, that is the exact place and the most probable hour for him to choose. Or, assuming an even choice between Broad and Wall streets and 26 Broadway, and an even choice between noon and some other hour, the chances, on the doctrine of probabilities are still twenty-five million to one in favor of an intentional as against an accidental explosion. Either presumption is so strong as to be practically conclusive, even without evidence. And when even slight evidence is added, the conclusion becomes a certainty. For the chances are also many thousands to one that the particular automobile which collided with a nitro-glycerine tank truck would not have been loaded with window weights, while these are a very probable sort of shrapnel with which to have loaded a huge time bomb. And when there was only one authorized nitro-glycerine tank truck in New York and it was a hundred blocks away at the time and did not explode, the accident theory becomes still further impossible.

FREE INSTITUTIONS VINDICATED

The re-election of the five expelled Socialist members to the New York assembly is a real triumph for free speech and representative institutions in America. These men were elected in the first place from Socialist constituencies; but since the Socialist majorities in their districts were elected Socialist representatives. But they are re-elected now, with even larger majorities, by voters many of whom do not believe in Socialism at all, but do believe in representative institutions. These are, in fact, the sincerest part of their supporters, because the radical Socialists do not believe in representative institutions, nor in political government, and use them merely as temporary makeshifts for propaganda.

It is for this reason that these elections are victories, not for Socialism, but for democracy. In fact, they are in a way a defeat of Socialism. They make important a right which Socialists regard as unimportant. They vindicate the right of a Socialist majority which Socialists, in theory, would deny to a capitalist majority. If these members are now admitted (and the New York legislature will be insane to reject them again) they will have vindicated the very institutions of free government which their party decries. They will have demonstrated that the existing American system opens all the opportunities which they seek by undermining it. It gives them a forum for propaganda, while they are a minority, and the right to rule, whenever they can bring the majority to agree with them. It demonstrates that majority rule is a sufficient principle of liberty; that representative institutions give it, and that political government safeguards it even to those who do not believe in political government. And it forces the exercise of their rights as citizens on men who would rather have propagandized as martyrs. If the New York legislature will now manifest an intelligence one grade above idiotcy, these elections of Socialists will have proved a Republican victory and a Socialist setback.

A HUMILIATING HOPE

The Root plan for a world court is made public. And it turns out to be as far as possible from the clumsy distortion of it announced by Senator Harding. The Harding court was to be a continuation of The Hague tribunal; the Root court is to be a new and separate institution. The Harding court was to be a substitute for the League of Nations; the Root court is to be an organic part of it. The Harding plan presupposed the disbandment of the existing League of Nations and the establishment of something new around the court as a nucleus; the Root court is a part of the existing League of Nations, is established by it, and depends for its entire operation on it. The Harding court was to do the peace-making of the world, supplemented by some vague sort of conference of the nations to discuss something or other; the Root court is to be confined exclusively to the determination of existing facts or rights under existing law, and resort to it, for such determination, is to be compulsory; the compulsion is to be exerted by the existing League of Nations under its powers in the existing covenant or under others to be placed in that compact by its members in the manner provided in it. The Harding court was to "take over" such of the wreckage of "the failed league" as it might find useful; the Root court is itself to be taken over by the existing League of Nations and to be operated by and under it. The Harding scheme is to be invented by a committee of American politicians and proposed, as a new thing, to the nations of the world, they first giving up and getting out of the existing League of Nations; the Root plan is already proposed to the existing League of Nations and is to be established by it; and America's only possible relation to it would have to be made by ratifying the existing treaty and covenant (with reservations, to be sure, if desired) and going in, through the very door which Harding says must be locked, into the building which he says must be dismantled and vacated.

On the face of things, two plans could not be farther apart. Senator Harding says he is for one thing; Senator Root is actually establishing the opposite thing. But practically the contrast is probably not so great. Senator Harding, based his speech on what he supposed was the Root plan, and he indicated that he expected to adopt the Root plan. It is something more than a mere rumor that he intends to make Mr. Root his Secretary of State to carry it out. There is nothing in the Root plan inconsistent with Senator Harding's own record in the Senate. He has announced that, before he actually does anything he will call in intelligent men (meaning doubtless chiefly Elihu Root) to determine what to do. All these facts point straight toward the Root plan. The only thing that points away from it is Mr. Harding's principal speech of the campaign, in which he announced the exact opposite.

If there were any indication that Mr. Harding understood his own words: that he had any ideas of his own or any grasp of the Root plan, or that he would be anything more than a passive object in the whole performance, it would be an imputation of Mr. Harding's honesty to infer that he could possibly be arranging to do the exact opposite of what he says he is going to do. But on the whole situation it is possible to make this inference without imputing anything but Mr. Harding's intelligence. There is therefore real reason to hope that in the probable event of Harding's election, the administration of which he will be the figurehead may carry out the very intelligent plan now proposed by Mr. Root.

It is a humiliating hope. It presupposes that President Harding's notorious mental deficiencies will not be supplemented with the obstinacy which usually accompanies such a lack; that he will be as flabby of will as of thought and lacking even the egotism which is normally the protective compensation of weakness. Not being a big enough man to lead, the only hope is that he will be small enough passively to follow. And, frankly, there is some hope of that.

Taken from the Files of the
FRESNO REPUBLICAN

Forty Years Ago Today

Splendid Meeting—On Thursday evening the school house at Temperance Colony was filled to repletion with ladies and gentlemen, who came to attend the Republican meeting and get acquainted with the Republican candidates. Addresses were made by Senator Rowell, Captain Dwyer, Judge Munn, Otto Froelich, Thomas Brown, Jeff Donahoe and Dr. Padell. Nothing abusive or disrespectful concerning our Democratic friends was heard, but politics were discussed rather in the light of principle. The Glee Club from Fresno was present and added materially to the interest of the meeting. The Republican ticket will certainly receive a hearty support in Temperance Colony. The very name of the precinct is un-Democratic.

On account o' the fact
That it lacks siller.
There ye are, folk,

AGAINST TWELVE MONTHS' SCHOOL

Editor Republican—In your paper you quoted Judge McCormick as being in favor of having school twelve months in the year. I want emphatically to state that this would be an impossibility in Fresno; on account of the hot weather. As it is now, twelve months' school about two weeks too long. The last two weeks of school in June, the scholars and teachers get tired out with the heat, and it certainly is not good for the children to be compelled to stay in a hot school room. They cannot study to any advantage. McCormick's plan might work in a cool climate like Oakland, but positively not here in Fresno. And, too, his reasons to keep children out of school in a great deal like a teacher. I know of several years ago. If anyone in the class got out of order during school hours, she would keep the whole class in after school; that is, punish the whole class for the act of one or two. Having school the year round would be a real punishment for the children. In my judgment, I cannot see the logic of the proposition to compel the children to be in school twelve months of the year. If the children get into mischief during vacation, if I were probation officer, I would fine the parent or discipline them in some way. In case their children got into unnecessary mischief. Take children up to the sixth grade, and at that age if parents would make it an extra inducement to have the children at home in the evenings, there would not be any need of much in any discipline by the judges of courts. There are, of course, exceptions to any general rule, but the exceptions are very few.

Enlisted Five Years,
Brigadier General
in Polish Army

Brigadier General Charles Sweeney, who is an American soldier of fortune in every sense of the word, Sweeney is the son of a multi-millionaire mining magnate. This fighting Irish-American-Polish general enlisted in the Foreign Legion in 1915 as a private. Later, because of conspicuous gallantry, he was made a lieutenant. When the United States entered the world war he joined the American ranks and was commissioned a major and later received the rank of lieutenant colonel. When trouble started in Poland he learned that they needed trained officers and immediately recruited 250 former American officers. He was recently commissioned a brigadier general for gallantry against the Russians.

More Truth Than Poetry

PUBLICITY

I know a great star in the movies
Who hasn't a thought in his dome.
Aside from his face he's a typical case
That we label as "Nobody home."
But he's rated all over the nation
As a thoughtful and scholarly man.
For a star of the screen needs to work with his brain
As long as his press agent can.

An actress who's widely reputed
As a writer of masterly rank
Has the kind of a mind that psychologists find
To consist very largely of blank.
But that doesn't make any difference—
Her brains may be utterly nil—
For she don't need to write to be looked on as bright,
As long as her press agent will.

A certain old Dean of the Drama
Is known as a patron of art.
He says he was pals with Millet and Franz Hals
And gave Titian and Corot their start.
But he only talks that way in private.
The public believes he is deep.
To Rubens, Van Dyke and Dore and the like,
For his press agent gave him his rep.

The lad who can get a position
To boost for a Theban boss,
Must furnish him stuff that will serve for a blurt
For that is what puts 'em across.
And we frankly believe that the drama
Would be even more of a fudge,
And score a real hit, if the actors would quit
And the press agents went on the stage.

LOOKING AHEAD

The coal shortage being feared, the profiteers are now at work on a plan for an ice shortage next summer.

Wheat, corn and barley are all high, and with the Eighteenth Amendment in force, even wild oats are too expensive for most of us.

UNUSABLE

About the only thing Europe can export nowadays is pigs, and most of those are in an advanced state of decomposition.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 17.—An appeal to college students to enter into advanced military training and study through the reserve officer training corps was voiced by Secretary Butler in an address today. He declared that as the list of reserve officers increased, one of the great military problems of the United States would be solved.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 17.—O. N. Ketcher, who had violated his parole from the Nebraska penitentiary, returned on his way today, tearing he would be "released and brought back." He was serving a sentence for assault on his wife and children. He was paroled on condition that he refrain from seeing his family, his longing to see his children caused him to break his parole and a quarrel with his wife resulted.

Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate is never sold in bulk but in cans only. In this way Ghirardelli's retains its flavor and strength—the two most important elements of good chocolate.

It's simple enough—the chocolate-sweetness of Ghirardelli's makes additional sugar unnecessary. You lose nothing of its deliciousness, its flavor, its strength, when you "pass up" the sugar. For Ghirardelli's "stands on its own feet" as a complete food-beverage—sufficient unto itself!

THOMPSON LEAVES POLICE DEPARTMENT

Acting Chief Wickstrom
Requests Resignation
Which Is Given

W. L. Thompson, member of the police department, tendered his resignation to Acting Chief E. A. Wickstrom yesterday. According to Wickstrom, Thompson was reported to have been drinking on the previous evening, and when informed of the charge, he admitted the truth. Accordingly, Wickstrom asked the resignation, which was promptly given.

Thompson was one of the new men on the department, having been sworn in six weeks ago. He had been assigned to the traffic squad and had made a good record up to the time of his trouble.

Wickstrom declares that the action was made necessary due to the high standard the police department expects of its members.

Police Arrest Man Said to Have Sold Liquor Over Bar

E. Gransell was arrested at his saloon at E and Fresno streets by inspectors Trundell and Shoun and Acting Chief Wickstrom last evening for selling brandy over the bar at 50 cents per drink. A quantity of fine liquor was confiscated.

Despite the fact that reports have come from other cities relating to the laxity of enforcing laws in this respect, Acting Chief Wickstrom has issued an ultimatum. No transgression of the law, no matter how small, will be tolerated. Any man allowed to be served, sold or given away, he states, and asks the co-operation of the people in preventing the violation of the prohibition law in Fresno.

The alleged open violation of the law in the manner related, is the first of its kind to come before the public since the prohibition law went into effect, according to the police.

Denies Permit For Valley Freight Line

C. Scribner, doing business under the name of Valley Express Company and carrying freight under contract between Fresno and Kings River Bridge, Traver, Clovis and Visalia, will not be allowed to become a common carrier, the Railroad Commission, in an order issued today, having refused to grant him the necessary permit. In its opinion the commission says that Scribner failed to show that there is public need for the service he proposed to give. Opposing the permit were the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and American Railway Express. These carriers claimed that they were giving a first class and adequate service between the points named by Scribner.

PLATE GLASS IS GREATEST LOSS

Glass Dome Etching of Morgan House Broken

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The Morgan house of J. P. Morgan and company, and the recently completed annex to the sub-treasury building received the greatest amount of damage from the explosion. All the windows in the Morgan building facing on both Wall and Broadway streets, were blown out and with them the vice-protection by which they were faced on the inside of the structure. The glass dome ceiling of the building was also broken and many of the steel supports to the glass bent and twisted. The interior finishing of the Morgan bank is of marble, much of it imported from Italy, and arranged in designs and patterns selected by the founder of the bank. This marble is blackened by smoke, but not beyond the point of restoration, it was said. Much of the handsome office furniture was cut and marred by falling glass.

At the sub-treasury building, the entrance with its steel grillwork was twisted and torn. The stone facing to the doorway and the front of the building up to the height of the second story was shattered and chipped by flying missiles. The old sub-treasury structure, closely associated with revolutionary history—the carved stone columns in front of the building were chipped and scarred in many places. The greatest general property loss, however, was to plate glass. For blocks in every direction the tall office buildings had windows blown out. The damage to glass is the greatest since the explosion on Black Tom island just prior to the United States entering the war. Several stores on Wall street also were wrecked by the explosion. A haberdashery shop on a high basement level by the sub-treasury annex was almost stripped, windows shattered and stocks being swept to the rear of the room and piled up in an indescribable heap of glass splinters and wood and iron debris and merchandise. Windows in other shops several blocks from the explosion were also broken.

FIND AMERICAN KILLED IN MEXICO

CALEXICO, Calif., Sept. 12.—The body of an American man, killed in a trunk road accident yesterday by some Mexican laborers on the Mexican side of the international line about a mile from here, was brought to Mexicali today and buried after being viewed by the authorities. The body was in bad condition, but appeared to be that of a man of light coloring, about five feet six inches tall, roughly dressed. The back of the head was crushed in and the body doubled up and thrust two down into the trunk.

An investigation is being conducted by Rafael C. Silver, former Mexican vice-consul at Los Angeles and now commissioner of the government of the northern district of Lower California. Silver said there were no identification marks on the body or clothing.

COMMITTEE TO PLAN GRAIN COOPERATION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The American Farm Bureau Federation announced today the personnel of the committee of seventeen appointed by President J. R. Howard to study a plan for co-operation of the markets of the American grain crop. Methods of co-operating grain elevator associations in the Middle West and of the grain raisers of Western Canada will be studied as well as the systems used in similar marketing enterprises by fruit growers and other producers, the federation said, estimating that it would require two years of preparation before a cooperative plan for the grain crop could be put in action. "I desire emphatically to deny," said President Howard, "that any policy or plan involving price fixing has been decided upon by the American Farm Bureau Federation or any committee appointed by it. We do so merely to evolve a marketing system which will eliminate useless handling, unnecessary selling expenses, ruinous price fluctuations due to market juggling and speculation and to co-ordinate supply and demand so that the producer receives the cost of production plus a reasonable living profit and the consumer gets an adequate and uninterrupted food supply at the least possible mark-up over actual costs."

MAINE RETURNS. PORTLAND, Maine, Sept. 12.—The marriage of which Katherine Hughes, daughter of John Hughes, of Portland, Maine, on Monday by Bertrand O. McIntire, Democrat, according to complete unofficial returns, was 66,627. The vote was: Parkhurst, 145,372; McIntire, 69,548.

TO ASSIST BENJAMIN. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—An announcement that John P. Moran, San Francisco attorney, will act as assistant secretary for the Republican national committee headquarters here, assisting Raymond Benjamin, the ex-Republican national chairman, in the remainder of the presidential campaign, was made by Benjamin here today. Moran is a former newspaper man and former secretary of the state central committee of the Progressive party.

CONVICT ASSASSIN. PORTLAND, Sept. 12.—Stephen Hodge and St. Stephen Hodge, convicted in a court martial of the assassination of Count Stephen Tiz, who was shot and killed November 1, 1918, and have been sentenced to be hanged, further has been sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment for his connection with the crime and two other men accused during that trial have been sent to jail for three months.

AVIATOR KILLED. NORTHELY, Mass., Sept. 12.—Lieutenant Haven Spencer, U. S. A., was killed yesterday when his airplane crashed into a tree as he attempted to land here after making an exhibition flight. Herbert McMillan, a Dartmouth college student, who was a passenger, escaped with slight injuries.

LATE CZAR AND ASSASSIN

This is the last photograph made of the late Czar of Russia. It shows him sawing wood with Yankel Yurafsky, commandant of the Redes guarding the captured royal family at Ekaterinburg, Siberia. The Czar was murdered about a week after this photo was taken. Yurafsky is charged with the responsibility for the slaughter of the royal family; and, according to reports, personally murdered the Czar and his son.

KILLS FIFTY FOWLS TO FIND DIAMOND

DAVENPORT, Iowa, Sept. 12.—It was a tedious process for H. L. Walbourne, a local grower and butcher, to recover a lost diamond valued at $800, for he was unable to tell which of his 160 chickens had swallowed the gem. The diamond was missing from his ring after he had unloaded his chickens from crates and placed them in a coop. He suspected one of the fowls had eaten it. He found the jewel in the gizzard of the fiftieth fowl he slaughtered.

FRESNO DOCTOR ARRESTED, FINED SELLING DRUGS

Charles E. Brown Taken
By State and Police
Operatives
Given Reprimand By Police Judge For His Actions

Charles E. Brown, physician and surgeon of this city, was arrested yesterday by Inspector Chris Hansen of the state board of pharmacy and Jack Dwyer of the police department on a charge of violating the state poison law. He pleaded guilty, before Judge J. H. Brown, and was fined $100 after receiving a severe reprimand.

Dr. Brown had been doing an extensive drug business in a very large degree was the statement of Inspector Hansen. The officer claims that Dr. Brown had purchased $500 worth of morphine from local drug stores in the past three weeks. This amount, it is claimed, is almost twice the total amount purchased by the other physicians from local drug stores in the same period.

The physician admitted upon examination that he had sold morphine to all doctors whether he knew them or not and without signing a blank to show the disposal of the drug. One of the police operatives bought five one-fourth grains of morphine from the physician yesterday. Police operatives, it is claimed, have purchased morphine from the physician on six other occasions.

The physician claimed that Dr. Brown did not know the operatives, did not question them and produced the drug without suspicion. Furthermore, it is claimed that the purchases were not made for the drug or not.

The dose which was bought would retail at $1.20 when entirely sold to patients.

The arrest was brought about after a long investigation by the state board of pharmacy and the police department. The physician was arrested at his home and taken to the police station.

Dr. Brown was released on his own recognizance and will appear in court tomorrow morning.

PROBING SUICIDE OF LODI VETERAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—E. E. Beyer, state auditor of the American Legion of California, announced today that he would investigate the death of Lodi post, who hanged himself here last night, in an effort to determine if Crocker's alleged failure to receive his army allotments prompted his death. A letter from the Federal vocational board at San Luis Obispo, found on Crocker's person, expressed surprise that he had not received his allowance from the government.

Representatives of the vocational board said that Crocker was receiving $100 and all educational expenses from the board and his net was unexplainable to them. Beyer said he was inclined to the view that troubles other than his allowance and education prompted his act.

FIRST CENSUS; STIRS JAPANESE

TOKYO, Sept. 17.—Japan's preparations for beginning the first census on October 1 are causing many persons extreme perturbation.

Students have visited the authorities or written saying that their pasts are not disclosed or examined because they have changed their names on account of family dissensions or other reasons and wish to have it remain buried.

The authorities are kept busy issuing tranquillizing notes explaining that the census is merely a scientific investigation to determine the present state of the empire, and is not actuated by any desire to probe into the pasts of the population.

BRITISH STATESMAN DIES IN ALMSHOUSE

DRIFTHAM, Eng., Aug. 28.—(By Mail)—Sir Luke White, who was a member of Parliament for eighteen years, has just died in the alms-house infirmary here. He was 84 years old. At Driffield, near York he started life as a messenger boy, became an attorney's managing clerk, a solicitor, a county councillor, a coroner for the East Riding and in 1899 (Ed.) member of Parliament for Buckrose. He was knighted in 1908.

He was affected Sir Luke's investments and in October of last year he filed a petition in bankruptcy, the statement of claims showing a deficit of more than $130,000. Later a Driffield solicitor, who had been Sir Luke's managing clerk, was prosecuted on a charge of alleged fraudulent conversion of $1000, and it was alleged the money had been converted to Sir Luke's use. A warrant was issued against White but was suspended owing to his illness and advanced years. The case against his former managing clerk eventually was dismissed.

About three years ago there were rumors of impending trouble and bankruptcy proceedings were instituted by creditors who had entrusted funds to Sir Luke. He was without means. His health, bodily and mentally, gave way. There remained only the alms-house and the rest of his maintenance there.

RECORD MONTH AMERICAN ROADS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—American roadroads handled more traffic during August than ever before during that month, according to reports compiled today by the American railroad association.

During the four weeks ended August 28, 2,553,522 cars of commercial freight were loaded compared with 2,549,267 cars in the same period of 1919 and 2,549,025 cars in 1918, the report showed.

FUR SUITS FOR BATHING

Fur bathing suits are the latest, having been designed by George W. Green of New York. In as probably they will not be very common, as the value of each runs into the four figures. LITHUANIA NOT TRUSTING LEAGUE

RIGA, Sept. 17.—(By Mail)—The Associated Press. The Lithuanian government received the suggestion today from the supreme council that the fighting between Lithuania and Poland to discontinue and the dispute referred to the executive council of the League of Nations. No reply has been made, but it appears likely that the Lithuanians will continue, apparently having slight faith in the League of Nations.

Andre Lawicki, Ukrainian foreign minister, has sought to establish peace negotiations between Soviet Russia and General Pellera, but the Bolsheviks replied that such application must be made to the Ukrainian Soviet government.

The Bolsheviks clearly are supporting the Ukrainian and Lithuanian contentions to embarrass Poland and will also probably support the claims of White Russia for independence. In an effort to complicate the situation, but the main boundary question at issue is whether Vilna shall be Polish or Lithuanian.

The Bolshevik delegation discredited the report of a revolution in Petrograd.

Worery of war and endless parleys Riga is paying little attention to the coming negotiations between the Poles and Bolsheviks. This city of formerly nearly 400,000 inhabitants has been reduced to 150,000. Letts are much discouraged over the rule wrought by the war.

TOO HEAVY CANVASS ON THE SHAMROCK?

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Aug. 31.—(By Mail)—When Mr. Nicholson, the designer of Shamrock IV, arrived in England, he placed the superior seamanship of the Resolute captain and crew among the reasons for the challenger's failure to lift the America's cup.

Members of the Shamrock's crew who have returned to England, resent the stir which they consider Mr. Nicholson has thrown upon their efficiency as yachtsmen and declare that the Shamrock's faulty handling was largely due to the interference of Mr. Nicholson.

Arthur Diaper, one of the crew, said in an interview with The Associated Press correspondent it was a case of too many cooks and he pointed to the fact that on the only occasion Captain Burton was free from interruption and advice, the Shamrock won. Diaper said all of the crew felt convinced that had a professional skipper been in full command Shamrock would have won the first three races. He claimed that she could point as close into the wind as the Resolute but the latter was superior in reach.

He declared that Shamrock was very awkward to handle and her canvas was about three times as heavy as that of the Resolute. The halliards were arranged in such a manner that the work of the men was made extremely difficult. What could be done by ten men on the 23-meter Shamrock required 30 to do on Shamrock IV. On one occasion in setting the mainmast they had 36 men on the halliards and could not move the mast.

"In fact," said Diaper, "I have never before seen such heavy canvas on a racing yacht." And then, on the return of the yacht to the island after the races, they found a complete set of light racing canvas for Shamrock IV, stored in Jacob's yard.

"Another fault," continued Diaper, "is the constant changing of gear which was in progress throughout the period of the races. The topmast was changed no less than seven times in the course of three weeks and eventually they finished with the original one."

DENIES COMMUNISM ACTIVE IN YUCATAN

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 17.—Recent disorders in Yucatan, resulted from political rivalry and were not caused by communists. It was declared by Provisional President De la Huerta last evening. The two leading Yucatan parties are the socialists and the liberal constitutionalists, the latter having about 80 per cent of the voting strength. Recent reports have said that the city of Yucatan had been controlled by bolsheviks, who were captured by government troops.

Provisional President De la Huerta stated the administration would not tolerate the political controversy in the state of Michoacan, where he admitted there are two governors and two legislatures claiming power.

Mayor MacSwiney Gets Some Rest

LONDON, Sept. 17.—After visiting the mayor today, Annie MacSwiney said her brother had had four hours' sleep during the night and that, although he was in great pain and growing weaker, he was refreshed by his rest.

Mayor MacSwiney is still being massaged, but his sister declared she was convinced that nothing was being given him which could act as nourishment. She said he was a determined man ever to carry out his vow to the end for the sake of the freedom of Ireland. He showed no signs of wavering, an only the day previous had said to the nurse when she offered him food:

"Do you think I am going to give way after my long hunger strike?"

TRIES TO SELL $22,000 IN GOLD FOR $700

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 17.—When R. L. Warner, claiming to be a mining man from Nevada, offered to sell a $22,000 gold ingot at a local pawnshop today for $700, the pawnshop's suspicions were aroused and he called the police.

Tonight Warner is in the county jail charged with the theft of the gold brick. When questioned by the police he said he had obtained the ingot in Colorado five years ago. Warner claims to be a mill superintendent of the Coma Mine, Lyon county, Nevada. A telegram was sent to the superintendent of this mine, Charles La Kamp, but up to a late hour tonight no reply had been received.

The mine is located fifteen miles from Dayton, an outlying mining town.

DECLARES EUROPE INFLAMED BY REDS

Prince Max—Discusses Peace Operations of Soviet-Russia

MANNHEIM, Germany, Aug. 27.—(By Mail)—"The present military operations are only a very minor part of a world-wide offensive which Soviet Russia is now setting in motion," declared Prince Max of Baden in the course of a lengthy interview which appeared today in the Baden state gazette. Asked whether he saw a ray out of the present gloom for Germany, Prince Max, according to the gazette, said:

"There is only one very slender hope: it consists in an unconditional maintenance of our neutrality both to the east and the west, and in the last desperate effort to effect a revision of the Versailles treaty."

Prince Max believes that what he calls the German resistance to the moral invasion of bolshevism is bound to crumble down if the checking pressure from the west is kept up. "It would be doing want justice to Lenin's uncanny personality," he continued, "if one were to believe that he is capable of keeping more than a gun peace with an allied capitalist state. Lenin believes with religious faith in the victory of the proletarian or of the communistic north of the world."

"The last of course, even the proletarian, is to understand that a military invasion of any country he wants to disrupt would be the very means of consolidating it. His plan would rather consist in provoking and stirring civil war in the bordering states so that when the time was ripe for invasion, he would find an open door and a union of comrades."

Prince Max believes that the prospects of such a plan succeeding in Germany are not wholly unpromising, as the "moral invasion" he declares has already set in and news from East Prussia indicates that the red propaganda among farm laborers there is already taking effect.

"Europe today is aflame," he concludes, "and the risk of extinguishing the conflagration cannot be postponed. The situation demands the restoration of President Wilson's fourteen points, which constituted the basis for the treaty, but which were wholly ignored at Versailles."

All artificial barriers erected there have already tumbled down; or are threatened with imminent collapse. The fate of Poland is a horrible example. "The Polish state can only be revived in the coming with President Wilson's words. It comprises an unchallengeable Polish population."

AIR OPERATIONS ON GRAND SCALE

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 17.—Aerial operations on a scale never before attempted on the Pacific Coast, according to navy officers, have been planned as a part of a spectacular night attack which will be made on battleships and destroyers off San Pedro, September 20, Captain Harry M. Smith, commander of the fleet force Pacific Fleet, announced today. The aircraft maneuvers are in a way preliminary to the inter-fleet battle operations which will be staged in the Panama roads next January.

At the San Pedro maneuvers it will be the object of the fleet air force to find, bomb and "destroy" battleships and destroyers bent on a night attack on the San Pedro fortifications. Three divisions of the Pacific type seaplanes, a division of torpedo-planes, the aircraft tender Arcata and two submarine chasers will leave this port for San Pedro September 27. On the night of September 29 they will be joined by the two large dirigibles from North Island. The aircraft fleet will then head out to sea to intercept and attack the five battleships and 18 destroyers assembling in battle formation from Hawaii. The fleet will use searchlights and anti-aircraft batteries against the air force.

HEARING, MONDAY ON MARTENS CASE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The American note to Italy on the Russo-Polish situation is expected to be introduced both by the government and the defense at the final hearing September 20 at Villa Igiea, in the department of justice's detention proceedings against Ludwig C. A. R. Martens, unrecognized Russian Soviet ambassador to the United States.

Officials said the note would be presented to establish the attitude of disapproval of the United States toward the regime which Martens professes to represent. Martens, it was stated, will attempt to interpret the note as an official recognition by the United States of the existence of a defacto government in Russia. Upon this he is expected to base his claim to diplomatic immunity from deportation.

MORE RUMORS OF RED PROPAGANDA

TOKYO, Sept. 17.—According to a semi-official dispatch received in Tokyo, concrete plans for bolshevizing the world have been perfected in Moscow and secretly avowed. The agents will shortly be detailed to America, Japan, China and Asia generally for the campaign. The plan included a propaganda offensive against Germany, the dispatch says, and the bolshevik agents were described as being active in England and France directing the propaganda campaign.
